Hawksworth

Hawksworth is one of the newer stars in Vancouver's restaurant firmament. Named after its chef-owner, David Hawksworth, formerly of West (T 604 738 8938), and occupying the ground floor of the Rosewood Hotel Georgia (see p026), it delights both the eye and the palate. Designer Alessandro Munge created four distinct spaces, referencing the roots of the old hotel. The private

York Room is located above the main restaurant, where the Pearl Room (above) channels art deco glamour, the Art Room features an installation by local artist Rodney Graham, and the bar/lounge exudes a clubby luxuriousness. On your plate, you'll find West Coast locavore paired with classic European-style cuisine. 801 W Georgia Street, T 604 673 7000, www.hawksworthrestaurant.com
