Hawksworth Restaurant at Rosewood Hotel Georgia (Vancouver)

Chef/owner David Hawksworth was the recipient of seven Vancouver Magazine restaurant awards in 2012, including Restaurant of the Year and Chef of the Year. A native Vancouverite, Hawksworth spent a decade honing his talents in Europe at Michelin-starred kitchens including Le Manoir aux Quat'Saisons in Oxfordshire. Guests at his establishment are seated in one of four distinct dining rooms and served a menu which changes almost daily and showcases contemporary Canadian cuisine. Notable dishes include yellowfin tuna ceviche with avocado, crispy amaranth, pecan, and cilantro; Canadian strip loin with smoked oxtail, potato rissole, choggia beet, and natural jus; and Lois Lake steelhead with olive oil sabayon, Parisienne gnocchi, asparagus, and chile.
